SECRETARY-GENERAL'S WELCOME

NATHAN FOWLES, ON BEHALF OF THE SECRETARIAT AND
CONSORTIUM PARTNERS OF THE 73RD SESSION OF MUNFW

Honorable Delegates and Esteemed Guests,

It is such an honor to welcome you all to the 73rd annual conference of the Model United Nations of the Far West (MUNFW)! As we enter into the realm of debate, diplomacy, and compromise, I would first like to extend my most sincere gratitude and appreciation for the months of preparation, hard work, and dedication that you all have shown. This decades old tradition of engaging in intellectual discourse, and discovering innovative solutions to solve the world's issues would not be possible were it not for those, such as you, who display the necessary passion, ability, and desire to make a meaningful contribution. And so, for the work you've already done, and the work you will do, I give you my most heartfelt thank you!

This year's theme, "Human Security: Our Shared Responsibility in the 21st Century", will have you discussing solutions to some of the world's most dire and pressing problems. War in Europe, the Middle East, and Africa threatens the lives of millions of innocent civilians; meanwhile tensions heat up between global superpowers, leaving a foreboding uncertainty in the minds of all. Old alliances are being tested while new ones continue to form, reshaping the international playing field and the global economy. Evidence of climate change becomes increasingly more evident with every passing year and new technologies such as Artificial Intelligence pose serious dangers to global and personal security.

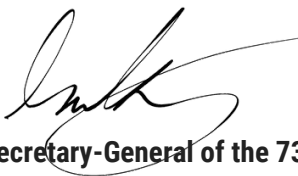

As we come together for the 73rd session of Model United Nations of the Far West, we do so with the understanding that while our event is of course a simulation, the issues discussed are much more, and the lives of millions of real people are impacted by these real world problems. With this understanding, we must also recognize the responsibility that we bear in the present, and in the future. We must use platforms such as this to educate ourselves, foster mutual understanding, find common ground, and together, strive for a better future for us and for those who follow. Additionally, in such times of uncertainty, conflict, insecurity, and strife, it is of the utmost importance to uphold the principles of respect, open mindedness, and inclusivity. We will use this platform of debate and compromise to learn from one another and to build connections that will forever transcend borders.

SECRETARY-GENERAL'S WELCOME

NATHAN FOWLES, ON BEHALF OF THE SECRETARIAT AND
CONSORTIUM PARTNERS OF THE 73RD SESSION OF MUNFW

Model United Nations of the Far West is not only about awards, passing resolutions, or giving great speeches. Rather, it is about the experience. It is about building connections, relationships, and long lasting friendships; about honing your own skills of writing, negotiation, public speaking, and compromise. It is a test of willpower, and one where placing yourself in uncomfortable situations will foster personal growth. I can not wait to meet all of you in April, I am so excited to see the work you do, the conversations you have and the relationships you build!

To end this welcome letter, I'd like to talk to you less formally and from a personal position. If there is one piece of advice I can leave you with as I sign off, it is to make your time at MUNFW memorable and enjoy it. While we are of course there for serious debate, it is important to remember to have fun! Meet and talk with your fellow delegates, hangout and grab lunch with people you've never met before, ask questions to others who may have a different background from you, and soak in everything you can. Having this be my third and final year of Model United Nations of the Far West, I can confidently say that my most closely held college memories happened within the bounds of this conference and Model United Nations. I sincerely wish you all the same wonderful, enlightening and memorable experiences that I have had for so many years.

Nathan Fowles, Secretary-General of the 73rd Session of Model United Nations of the Far West

CONFERENCE POLICIES

BEHAVIOR IN COMMITTEE

Throughout any conference hosted by Model United Nations of the Far West, Inc. (“MUNFW”), all participants, including delegates, faculty advisors, volunteers, and those associated with MUNFW will be required to demonstrate professional behavior and decorum and adhere to the policies of the organization.

When a committee is in session, delegates must properly represent the country in the committee’s work to promote the country’s interests and values in an effort to achieve its policy goals. Delegates may negotiate policies through debate, bargaining, and consensus, but should make every effort to ensure that their country’s policy objectives are reflected in a committee’s outcome documents.

Debate at MUNFW is between delegations and nations. Protocol requires that delegates address or refer to other delegates by referencing the Member State that they represent (Such as, “the delegate from ____.”) Policy criticism is addressed to the nation, not the delegate. Derogatory remarks directed to a delegate or delegation are unacceptable behavior and are prohibited at MUNFW.

Rules and procedures exist to facilitate the orderly flow of business in a committee, council, etc. Use of the rules to hinder this flow, if not in keeping with a country’s policy on the issue, will be ruled out of order. A delegate may challenge the chair’s decision to rule a motion out of order, but such challenge must be in writing and directed to the Secretary-General only. The committee shall continue its work while waiting for a ruling from the Secretary-General.

DELEGATE ATTENDANCE

Attendance at all meetings during a conference is vital to achieving the benefits of the MUNFW experience. Part of that attendance is being on time, paying attention to conference and committee business, and contributing to debate and the development of a committee’s outcome documents.

It is the policy of MUNFW that Member Schools and Delegates shall observe the starting and stopping times posted by the Secretariat in the conference schedule. The practice of suspending the work of a committee prior to the stated times shall be discouraged unless the committee has completed its agenda.

CONFERENCE POLICIES

DRESS CODE

Preferred attire for committees shall be standard western business dress. Delegates may wear a jacket and tie with appropriate shirt and pants. Sweaters are acceptable in place of jackets and ties. Delegates may also wear dresses, skirts or pants with appropriate blouses. Sheer clothing should be avoided. No jeans or athletic wear, sneakers, T-shirts, or shorts will be allowed to be worn in committees.

ALCOHOL AND SUBSTANCE USE POLICY

MUNFW prohibits at all times the presence or consumption of alcohol in committee rooms or at the diplomats' banquet. MUNFW prohibits the unlawful use of controlled substances during the conference. When committees are not in session, MUNFW participants may consume alcoholic beverages in a manner that is responsible and adheres to restrictions imposed by law and respective participants' school standards of conduct.

ACCESSIBILITY AND REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION

MUNFW is committed to welcoming people of all abilities, and regularly engages with the conference site to ensure compliance with State and Federal accessibility standards. Conference participants are encouraged to consult with their college Disability Services office regarding resources their institution may have in order to provide reasonable accommodations. Conference attendees may contact oed@munfw.org to discuss how MUNFW may be able to further facilitate participation at the MUNFW conference or events.

DISCRIMINATION, HARASSMENT, AND RETALIATION

MUNFW is committed to maintaining an environment free from discrimination, harassment, and retaliation. For more information on MUNFW's policies and procedures for reporting, investigating, and acting upon violations of these policies, please review the MUNFW, Inc. SET THE AGENDA

HOST AN UPCOMING SESSION OF MODEL UNITED NATIONS OF THE FAR WEST

Is your school interested in hosting an upcoming session of Model United Nations of the Far West? Would you like to help run the conference, set agenda topics, or chair a committee? If so, you are encouraged to prepare a bid proposal and share your plans for a future conference.

In addition to being extremely fun and personally fulfilling, serving in the Upper-Secretariat or chairing a conference committee is a distinguished addition to any resume or curriculum vitae. Hosting a session of Model United Nations of the Far West can also serve as a catalyst for gaining institutional support for your school's Model United Nations program.

Schools may choose to submit a bid to serve as the singular host of a given annual session or may collaborate with other participating schools to present a bid as a consortium. Interested students or groups should consult with their Faculty Advisors prior to the Membership Meeting on April 22nd (2:30pm). All bids must be presented to the Membership Committee, accompanied by a provisional agenda, including a theme, title and list of committees and topics, for an upcoming session.

Take the lead. Share your ideas. MUNFW has remained a student driven conference since its inception in 1951. It needs your help to continue that proud tradition.
